

Los hermanos Bouroullec siguen su investigación de la simplicidad y de la elegancia a través de la nueva colección Losanges. Se trata de la reinterpretación de la alfombra persa tradicional realizada con la técnica ancestral del kilim.

De gran dificultad técnica, la colección Losanges requiere de una gran destreza ya que se trata de combinar 13 colores a través de la forma geométrica del rombo, un gran reto para los artesanos del norte de Pakistán. Además de estar confeccionada artesanalmente, la lana de origen afgana se hila a mano, lo que permite destacar unos colores de tonalidades únicas que hacen que cada rombo sea distinto y cada alfombra una pieza singular.

The Bouroullec brothers continue their study of simplicity and elegance with their new Losanges collection. It's about reinterpreting the traditional Persian rug using the ancient kilim technique.

Technically complex, the Losanges collection requires great skill as it involves combining 13 colours through the geometrical rhombus shape, a great challenge for the craftsmen of Northern Pakistan. As well as being crafted by hand, the Afghan wool is also spun by hand, which allows for some unique colour tones to be highlighted which make each rhombus different and each rug a unique item.
