Lattice

The Lattice collection springs from the organic imagination of the Bouroullec brothers. The basic pattern, rhythmically reproduced, gives rise to a harmonic succession of colours. Balance, proportion and irregularity are the key elements in the controlled disorder that transforms Lattice into a unique creation.

“Rugs are commonly designed as a surface on which a pattern is distributed. However in the case of Lattice, the pattern is defined as a constructive system to generate the form of the rug itself. The system of coloured bands, in which pattern, form and colour are linked in an intimate manner, creates a different scope”- explain the Bouroullec.

Lattice

La colección Lattice nace del imaginario orgánico de los hermanos Bouroullec. Su estructura básica reproducida rítmicamente da origen a una armónica sucesión de colores. Equilibrio, proporción e irregularidad son las claves del controlado desorden que convierte a Lattice en una creación única.

“Las alfombras se conciben comúnmente como una superficie sobre la cual se dispersa un motivo. Sin embargo en el caso de Lattice, el motivo se define como un sistema constructivo que permite generar la forma de la alfombra. El sistema de bandas en el que se unen íntimamente motivo, forma y color crea un perímetro diferente” - explica Bouroullec.
